

THE WRANGELL SENTINEL

VOL. XVII. NO. 2

WRANGELL, ALASKA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 3, 1918

PRICE TEN CENTS

CABLE NEWS

PETROGRAD.—Trotzky declared today that the Russian workers would not consent to the German peace proposals.

PETROGRAD.—The German refusal to remove the peace conference to Stockholm, and other disagreements resulting in a halt in peace negotiations have caused universal discussion in this city. Even the most radical Bolsheviks and the most ardent peace advocate have been aroused by the German position. They declare that the resumption of hostilities is imminent, and believe that it will be possible to organize an army that will be effective.

WASHINGTON.—Immediate registration for military service of all men who have become 21 since the first draft registration was urged today by Crowder.

Chris Wedo, watchman for the A. P. A. at the trap at Anan bay, came in town Sunday.

Ed Grigwire's dandruff treatment is the best on the market. Try it and be convinced.

H. B. Ingram and J. J. Chisholm arrived in Wrangell on the City of Seattle yesterday.

Eddie Moran arrived in Wrangell on the City of Seattle yesterday from a trip outside.

Jack Fury arrived in Wrangell on the City of Seattle yesterday after an absence of several months at Centralia, Wash.

The Red Cross requests that members who do not receive the Red Cross magazine call at the postoffice for same.

Victor Youngmacher who went to Seattle several months ago to enter the Marine Hospital returned on the City of Seattle. He is much improved in health.

For Sale—Two room cottage nicely furnished. Inquire of Oscar Carlson.

A. Dana arrived from Seattle yesterday on the City of Seattle.

The Sentinel received Christmas greetings from Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stanhope. Mr. Stanhope is now connected with the Bremer News.

For the shave and haircut of satisfaction go to Ed Grigwire's shop, opposite drug store.

On New Year's eve there was a watch night service at the Salvation Army hall.

Have your watch repaired at George Cowan's, in the Uhler Block.

Robert H. Scott, Red Cross field man for Alaska, is leaving the Red Cross to enter the Third Officers' Training camp at Fort Kearney.

In Ketchikan the sale of sugar has been limited to $1 at one order.

The eight hour law went into effect Tuesday morning. From our exchanges we judge there will soon be test cases at Juneau and Anchorage.

Notice to Moose

Dues in the Moose lodge may be paid at the Sentinel office any day of the week.

SERVICES

Sunday 3:30 p. m. Sunday school. All children are invited.

7:30 p. m. Mrs. Adj't. Haberkirk will speak.

A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Mrs. Wm. G. Thomas Passes Away

Mrs. Wm. G. Thomas passed away last night after a lingering illness. An account of her death will occur in our next issue.

Funeral Notice

The funeral of Mrs. Wm. G. Thomas will be held in the Presbyterian Church tomorrow (Friday) at 2 o'clock. After the service the body will be deposited in the vault near the church for the present.

Hard Times Ball

The Redmen's hard times' ball on New Year's eve was largely attended and was a huge success financially.

One of the most enjoyable features of the evening was the dancing of the Scotch Highland Fling by Capt. McGilvray of the Ravalli. The captain very graciously responded to the request to dance, but warned the people beforehand that he would pass the hat after the performance in the interest of the Red Cross.

His exhibition was a rare treat and the spectators showed their appreciation by almost literally filling his hat, the amount of the contribution being $65. Capt.

McGilvray has three brothers at the front, and he stated that he hoped ere long to be there himself.

During the evening sandwiches and coffee were served up stairs.

The music was by the Native Band which alternated with Messrs. Patterson (violin) and Carl Stoeckel (piano).

The receipts were as follows:

Admission fees $123.00

From Lunch 46.20

From Capt. McGilvray's

exhibition of dancing 65.00

$234.20

Expenses 32.50

Balance to Red Cross $201.70

The committee having charge of the affair was composed of Ole Johnson, J. G. Grant and W. H. Warren.

C. M. Coulter and L. M. Churchill attended to taking in the cash.

The New Year was over three hours old when the affair came to a close.

The freighter Ravalli of the Pacific Steamship company, dropped her wheel Sunday night.

She was picked up by Alameda and towed into Wrangell.

She has been here since, tied up at the Columbia & Northern dock.

The tug Warrior is en route from Seattle coming to her assistance.

The Jefferson sailed at 9 o'clock

Tuesday morning. The passengers for Wrangell are: Mrs. L. E. Barron, Miss Lillian Barron, I. W. Clark, W. J. Neill is reported to be aboard the Jefferson also. His name does not appear in the list cabled from Seattle.

Dr. S. C. Snurick arrived in Wrangell yesterday. Dr.

Snurick is now stationed at Camp

Lewis. Dr. Snurick left Wrangell rather hurriedly at the time he went to San Francisco to enlist.

He has returned to attend to some business matters and to make shipment of some of his effects.

There are two business houses less in Wrangell since Alaska went dry on the first. The Central Saloon and the Tannhauser have closed up. A. Lemieux and J. G. Grant will continue at the same stands, operating pool halls with side attractions.

Roy Murphy, the logging man, took passage to Juneau on the City of Seattle yesterday.

The business firms of Wrangell

are distributing among their customers some exceptionally attractive calendars for 1918.

RED CROSS NOTES

Report of Christmas Membership Drive

Annual members	306	$306
Magazine members	82	164
Contributing members	11	55
Sustaining members	1	10
	400	$525

In addition to the above Mr. Bender donated the gross receipts from the show on the night of the membership rally, which amounted to $33. (This was the second time Mr. Bender had given a show for the benefit of the Red Cross).

The sum of $27 was realized as a result of the sale of doll clothes by six little girls two weeks ago.

From the time of organization up to the beginning of the Christmas drive on December 17 the Wrangell chapter had enrolled 682 members and had collected $2,570.70.

Halifax Contribution Acknowledged

The Sentinel does not wish to draw individual comparisons but we believe there is nothing unfair in calling attention to the fact that while Wrangell contributed $437 for the Halifax sufferers, the amount contributed by the city of Spokane was $100. The great city of San Francisco contributed $2,500. Anchorage gave $203.50.

Mayor Matheson yesterday received a most appreciative letter from the secretary of the Canadian club.

The letter is in part as follows:

"I wish to express the very great thanks of the Canadian Club of Seattle for the splendid contribution of the citizens of Wrangell for the relief of Halifax."

"Noting that you have more than a hundred subscriptions to the Wrangell fund for the Halifax relief, and remembering the speed with which you ansawed our call, we are doubly impressed with the fine spirit and degree of activity back of your effort. Coming in the midst of a nation-wide Red Cross drive and on the eve of Christmas holdays, we feel very proud of the response to our call."

"We shall ever treasure the memory of your good deed for the relief of sorely stricken people. Your action typifies the spirit of the Northland."

War Savings Stamps

United States War Saving Stamps are a democratic form of government security, bearing interest like liberty bonds, and in denomination so small as to place it within the power of every citizen to give tangible help to his country in the present emergency by encouraging habits of thrift and letting the government use money that would otherwise be wasted or hoarded where its power for good would be temporarily lost. Stamps worth five dollars five years hence are for sale this month at $4.12, increasing

1¢ per month in price until maturity in January, 1923, when they will be redeemed at the post office or at the Treasury of the United States. The Bank of Alaska has agreed to carry a supply of these stamps and it is expected will have them for sale by the end of this week. Further information can be had at the bank or the postoffice or from

F. Matheson, Chairman War

Savings Stamps Sales for the Wrangell District.

The business firms of Wrangell

are distributing among their customers some exceptionally attractive decorations.

An appropriate address will follow. All are cordially invited.

Remember the time 7:30 P. M.

Natives Do Good Work For Red Cross

One of the most enjoyable as well as successful Red Cross events that occurred during the past year was the basket social given by the Native people at the Rink last Thursday evening.

The hall was beautifully decorated.

Some New Year Customs

THE sole record of the observance of the New Year by the pilgrims in the new world, named New England, was most prosaic, most brief. "We went to work betimes," said Alice Morse Earle, the famous investigator of old time American customs. Many of the good Puritan ministers thought the celebration or even notice of the day in any way savored of improper and unchristian reverence for the heathen god Janus. Yet they came from a land where New Year was second in importance and in domestic observance only to Christmas. Throughout every English colony New Year's eve was always celebrated. In many it was called by the pretty name of Singing E'en, from the custom which obtained of singing the last of the Christmas carols at that time.

In Scotland the last day of the year was called by the uglier name of Hog-ma-nay, a name of unknown and inexplicable derivation, and in Scotland it was regarded as the most popular of all the "daft days," as the Christmas holidays were termed. Scotch children of the poorer class in small towns still ask on that day from door to door at the houses of wealthier families for a dole of oat bread, calling out "Hog-ma-nay" or some of the local rhymes which are given in Chambers' "Popular Rhymes of Scotland," such as:

Hog-ma-nay,
Trollolay,
Give us of your white bread
And none of your gray!

They also ask for cheese, which they call "nor money," and Brand's "Popular Antiquities" gives this begging rhyme used by Scotch children:

Get up, guile wife, and binnie swete,
Deal cales and cheese while ye are here,
For the time will come when ye'll be dead
And neither need your cheese nor bread.

As the children on these forays are swathed in great sheets formed into a deep bag or pouch to carry the oat-cake, they form quite a mumming and fantastic appearance.

Come, open your door! There's a friend waiting near
Who is anxious to bid you a happy New Year.
He rings at the bell, and he's ready to shout:
"The New Year is in, and the old year is out,
And long may you prosper and long may you smile.
May happiness dwell with you all of the while."

Come, run to the door! There's a friend waiting there.
Go bid him to enter and draw up his chair.
Come, fill up his wineglass and pass him the cake,
For fewer and fewer are calls that friends make.
Come, shout in reply to his message of cheer.
"Long life to you, friend, and a happy New Year!"

A happy New Year and a wealth of success.

May love and prosperity never grow less.
May each year that follows be happier too.
May Time and Grim Sorrow deal gently with you.
Come, run to the door! There's a friend waiting there.
Invite him to enter and draw up his chair.

Come, open your heart! There's a friend waiting near
Who is anxious to share in your sorrow and cheer.
He longs for your friendship, and fain would he win
The way to your heart. Will you let him in?
He knocks at the door. Would you send him away?
Or greet him with love and implore him to stay.

Although an integral part of the one system, each branch has had assigned to it the full amount of Capital required by the Territorial Banking Board for the establishment of a Bank in such a location. Each branch is therefore equipped to serve its customers as fully as any independent bank, but with the added strength and resources of the entire institution to draw upon. Furthermore each is responsible to the Territorial Banking Board, is examined and supervised independently and renders its statement direct to the Board. The Bank of Alaska is therefore, because of its double supervision and safeguards, peculiarly "An Institution of Strength and Character."

CABLE NEWS

Tuesday, January 1, 1918

SEATTLE—Great crowds bade joyful farewell to the old year and gave the happiest greeting to the new year. A number of early morning holdups occurred usually with good results for the bandits.

WASHINGTON—"The voice of Washington still resounds and he shows the paths to triumphs through sacrifice," said President Poincare of France in his New Year greeting to the American people.
